Organizers/Contact:

Roberto Bruzzone, HKU-Pasteur Research Centre - Hong Kong.

Si Lok, Genome Research Center The University of Hong Kong - Hong Kong.

Tin Wee Tan, National University of Singapore - Singapore.

Ueng-Cheng Yang, National Yang-Ming University, Taipei - Taiwan.

Fredj Tekaia, Institut Pasteur Paris - France.

With financial support from: EMBO - Institut Pasteur Paris.

Aim of the course and call for application

The main objectives of the course are to familiarize young scientists (Biologists/Computer Scientists/Mathematicians) with bioinformatics and genome data analysis skills and to encourage multi-disciplinarity by introducing:

- 1- advanced fundamental algorithms in bioinformatics,
- 2- their application in genome analyses,
- 3- and recent knowledge acquired from genomes studies and perspectives.

The course is aimed for motivated Ph.D and Post-doctoral students, as well as young assistant professors and junior scientists in Public Institutions particularly from Asia, Africa and South America, with background in Mathematics, Statistics, Biology or Computing, who are involved in Bioinformatics and Genomes studies.

Duration: Full time from August 17 to August 29, 2009.

Location:

Li Ka Shing Faculty of Medicine, The University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong SAR, China.

Accommodation and social: Acceptance to the course includes free accommodation (double rooms based) breakfast, lunch and dinner.

Application Deadline: April 15, 2009.
